

Author:
Daniel Kofman,

Title:
A view on future Communications

Abstract:
This talk is composed of two parts. The first one presents the Euro-NGI Network of Excellence, describing his objectives, activities and main achievements. The second part presents a view on future communications and highlights different topics on which we consider that providing a significant and coordinated research effort is of strategic importance.